Chat Rouge Legend

The Chat Rouge « Red Cat » legend began when several producers gathered under the beautiful full harvest moon one night in the Beaujolais. Legend says the « Red Cat » protected the vineyards from the insects and animals that could do harm and damage to the vines and grapes. These cats love to wander through the vineyards and villages under the bright Beaujolais moonlight. It is said that these unusual cats looked true red in color from the reflection of the bright harvest moon above, which alarmed the villagers and other animals in the area. Over time they became known as the guardians of the vines, so the winemakers dedicated themselves to producing the best quality wines in honor of these « Red Cats »
